Change And Improvement Marks Student Council

2.

The Student Council under President Bob Carden and Vice President John D'Agostino has again sought change for improvement. This distinguished body functioning as an important and integral part of Iona Prep is a definite benefit to the students. The members who are presidents of various activities and homerooms vote on important proposals which could influence the students' ability to learn and progress in school.

As always, the council fulfilled a two-fold purpose. Primarily, it acted as a voice for the student ideas and reforms. Secondly, it served as a voice for the student body, focusing and condensing student opinion for the faculty and administration.

In a time of transition, the members and officers worked with moderator Br. John McCarthy to smooth the rough edges that so often accompany change. This work benefited pupil and administrator, paving the way for mutual understanding and mutual advancement.

National Honor Society: Striving To Create The Complete Man

It is not an easy task to find an Honor Society in high school which does more than "honor" its members. However, the Iona Chapter of the N.H.S., under the direction of moderator Brother Daigneault and President Paul Sheils, manages to perform several valuable tasks throughout the year. This society does not sit on its laurels, its participants have gone out and shared their individual talents with all members of the school body. Through the tutorial program, they perform an invaluable service to numerous students. It is certain that the word "honor" is not misplaced in the title of this organization.

1. Don Alleva receives certificate from Brothers Driscoll and Delaney.
2. Moderator Brother Daigneault posts notice.
3. N.H.S. officers John Manley, Ed Loughman, and Paul Sheils confer with Brother Daigneault.
4. Joe DeSantola tutors chemistry in a program established by the National Honor Society.
5. President Paul Sheils addresses Honors Night assembly.

Polarities Of Thought Meet In Avid Discussion

1.

Forensics at Iona Prep consists of Debate and Oratory. Although these organizations differ superficially, they both are dedicated to the premise that all good ideas are obtained through verbal confrontation.

This year the teams have been very successful. With guidance from Mssrs. Robert Naversen and Paul deBarros, the members of both clubs demonstrated their talent at such tournaments as the Dartmouth and Georgetown competitions. The sounding success of the Oratory and Debate teams is a tribute to the imagination of the moderators, the talent of the speakers and the support of the school as a whole.

1. Coach Naversen answers questions on an upcoming meet.
2. Debator Rich Levy delivers speech at Iona Tournament.
3. President John Manley studies the merits of a particular plan.
4. Iona team listens patiently to speech of opponent.

The SAGA again this year has led a path of new and changing ideals for Iona journalism. These endeavors, and the work of a well rounded staff, produced the 200 pages of Iona legacy for the year of '72.

Under the editorship of John Phelan and Peter Brown the coordination of all phases of life here at Iona was accomplished in pictorial and literary lines. The Senior coordinators, as did the rest of the staff, led to this goal of depicting Iona's social, academic, and religious environment. This of course demanded work of many different persons and many different characters and here is where we find a portrait of our staff.

The '72 SAGA staff epitomized dedication and talent. These natural attributes were supplemented by the staff's uncanny penchant for organization. Mike Leslie did the Activities Section while Joe Marren and Kevin Mc Mullan covered Sports and Rich Davis presented Classes. Dan Quinn oversaw the Senior Section and Bob Trainor handled Faculty. John Manley and Bill Gray wrote most of the copy.

Iona News: Prep Tabloid Expounds On Student Life

1.

2.

It is not often that a high-school newspaper can adequately cover the entire school scene and expand into international affairs. However, Mr. Mulchahy and the Editors of the Iona News, Pat Pizzella, Tom Pilkington, and Tom McEvoy have achieved this high standard. Included in the fortnightly publication is a complete brief on student life, satirical humor, and a delving into world problems. Articles such as the "Claim-to-fame" card and "Bo's-Fro" were a constant source of student enjoyment. On a more serious note, "Counterpoint" and "Campus Voice" provided us with intellectual food for thought. The Sports section followed Iona's teams throughout the year and successfully covered their triumphs and defeats. Since Communication is the basis of understanding we owe a great deal to the Iona News Staff.

Christian Attitudes Are Fostered By Y.C.S.

3.

The Y.C.S. is a society of students who's goal is one of helping others. This help takes the form of christian activity in moral virtues. The Y.C.S. sponsors the annual Turkey Drive and Orphans Day as a school event to involve the students in the Christian profile of Iona.

It's membership, expanding the four years, adds another opportunity for the students to fulfill their individual religious outlooks in a singular way. Under the leadership of Bill Russell and Bill Groglio the Y.C.S. extends itself to all the students here at Iona. The Y.C.S., with it's moderator Mr. Puglia, is an essential facet to the character of the Prep.

1. Iona's Christian profile is exhibited in celebration of mass in school chapel.
2. President Bill Russell confers with V. P. Bill Groglio.
3. Members prepare can goods for annual Turkey Day Drive.

Fall Dramatics: "Never Too Late"

1.

2.

3.

With the fall semester well under way, it was "Never too Late" for the Iona Prep Players to again surprise audiences with this first production of the 1971-72 season. The play, written by Sumner Arthur Long, was produced with the "professionalism" so common to the Iona stage, and was performed with the Player's great enthusiasm before sellout audiences.

Bro. Antosca, Mr. Romeo and Bro. Grondin headed the cast and crew, and collaborated their talents with those of the students to produce a fine show.

The plot revolves around a middle-aged couple, played by Mary Driscoll and Tony Barletta, who are expecting a child at a time when grandchildren would seem more appropriate. Complications occur during the course of the show, which result in hilarious comedy that was aptly portrayed by the cast.

Under the imaginative guidance of Miss Louise Reidinger and Mrs. Nancy Forrest, the Library Council has added greatly to the efficiency of our library. By performing such valuable activities as circulating books, filing magazines and maintaining the Iona Prep Scrapbook, this group of dedicated young men has proven necessary for library use by the Prep Students.

Lately, Iona has witnessed a great awakening of modern educational development. At the forefront of this awakening is the Audio Visual club. Under the direction of Mr. Victor Magnotta, the club has greatly aided the students and faculty with closed-circuit television, overhead projectors and other technological instruments. They have found the learning process greatly simplified by the clubs electronic wizardry. The club has proven to be of particular importance to the Humanities Branch of the Senior program.

The A.V. members have become very knowledgeable in the use of all pertinent equipment. They have proven a valuable asset to Iona and their schoolmates by constantly broadening the horizons of knowledge.

Mothers Demonstrate Achievement Through Action

One significant contribution to the smooth operation and steady progress of Iona Prep, is the effort of the Mothers' Club. Their diligence is evidenced in the successful characteristics of all their undertakings. It is an essential and invaluable organization, dedicated to helping both the student and school socially and financially.

Under the outstanding leadership of Mrs. James Curtin, the Club has proved itself to be a hard working responsible society. She was greatly assisted by her Vice-Presidents, Mrs. Francis Santangelo and Mrs. Alfonso Rigione, and Moderator Brother James K. Devlin. Outstanding achievements were produced by Mrs. Robert McMullan, who successfully organized the Communion Breakfast, which was highlighted by an address from Brother Martin P. Burns of the Grammar School. The Emerald Isle Luncheon, the major fund raising event of the Club's calendar, was due to the fine work of Co-Chairmen, Mrs. William Cunningham and Mrs. Valfrid Palmer.

This year's keywords, dedication and organization are appropriate in describing the tremendous job accomplished by the Mothers' of Iona. Their outstanding support of the school is almost taken for granted, but now, in retrospect, we acknowledge a job well done.

4.

5.

1. Luncheon festivities included the purchasing of chances, and high hopes for winning.
2. Mrs. Ross Fulco displays treasure chest winnings.
3. Brother Harold M. Delaney addresses annual Communion Breakfast, as Mrs. Robert McMullan, Chairman of the event looks on.
4. Mrs. James Curtin, President of the Auxiliary, welcomes all Emerald Isle attendants.
5. Mrs. Valfrid Palmer and Mrs. William Cunningham, Co-Chairmen of the gala luncheon affair, express the enjoyment of the day.

Mathematics Is The Key To The Space Age

The sight of rockets blasting into space has become more and more common around Iona. Thanks to the Rocketry Club, we have kept pace with the technological advances of the time. Their ingenuity and diligence is well-rewarded by their accomplishments. Now, with Moderator Joseph Puglia leading the way, the Club is expanding into other areas. They design and launch their own rockets with excellence. This group of dedicated young scientists are continually delving into the intricacies of space.

In past years, Iona Prep has witnessed a tremendous growth of understanding in the areas of Math and Science. One of the leading achievements of this awareness has been the establishment of a Math Club. President Kevin Appert has greatly encouraged cooperation with the Audio-Visual Club in all forms of study. By bringing guest speakers to address the club, the members have become quite well voiced in intricate fields of Math. Their diligent work and willingness to help other students, substantially increases the mathematical aptitude of Iona Students.

Iona's Horizons Broadened By Educational Activities

3. Spanish Club — Students who wish to enhance their knowledge of Spanish culture and Spanish Language are able to do so through the Spanish Club. Mr. Arnaldo lends them knowledge of Hispanic culture which proves a great aid in their school work. This year they joined with the Ursuline Spanish Club to offer a Spanish dinner, with fine Spanish cuisine the order of the evening. During their annual Christmas Party they celebrated "La Navidad" in the Spanish style, including the breaking of the pinata. Their activities also include attendance at Spanish plays and movies. It is certain these gentlemen will benefit from this excellent club.

4. Chess Club — Chess is a challenging, intricate game. It requires mental prowess, keen intelligence and deep insight. The 1971-72 version of the Chess Club exhibited all these abilities. With President Peter Koch at the helm, the chess men moved from one tournament to another, demonstrating at each play-off the quality of their collective game. With each year, this quality draws them further into the Iona experience.

Fathers' Club Continues Diligent School Support

This year, the Fathers' Club has once again contributed enormously to the efficiency and improvement of Iona Prep. Under the leadership of President Vincent Macri and Vice-President Philip Jakeway the fathers completed another successful and eventful school year. The annual picnic to acquaint new members was followed by the Christmas dinner-dance. Organized by Mr. Walter Vollmoeller, this was the social highlight of the year and a great success. Following the dinner-dance was a father-son Communion Breakfast, organized by Mr. Stan Nurzyk. The Club climaxed their activities with their annual Sports Dinner which proved a source of income and an enjoyable evening for all. The fathers have again come through and we of Iona thank them.

Irish Power To Division Title

1.

1. Tackle George Marrone stops Terrier ground attack as Don Trabert moves in.
2. All County Ends Charlie Moylan and Carlos Ferrer turn upfield against Mount as Ferrer grabs pass.
3. Carmen Palladino and Tom Borgia punish Mount runner.

The Iona Prep Varsity Football team enjoyed the best season since the 8-0 championship season five years ago. The 6-1 mark this season was the best in the CHSFL City Division. Only a technicality, after Chaminades refusal to play Iona in a postponed championship, prevented Iona from being league champions.

As the season got under way the Gaels were faced with a tough Holy Trinity squad. Losing at the half, the spirited Iona club rallied to a 22-10 win. The following Friday proved to be disastrous one for Iona as an offensive minded Cardinal Hayes handed Iona what proved to be their only setback. With a 1-1 record Iona faced an undefeated Holy Cross team and managed to hold off a late rally and win 18-16. Iona's next victory came over Cardinal Spellman 26-0 followed by a 28-14 win over a spirited Stepinac team.

Next, Mount Saint Michaels three year winning streak over the Gaels was broken as Iona won easily 18-6.

The Division Championship game against St. Francis proved to be one of the most dramatic games in the history of football at the Prep. The Gaels were down 7-0 in the first half after they turned the ball over on their own 10 yard line. Iona battled back throughout the second half, and with less than two minutes left, Heelan fired a touchdown strike to Carlos Ferrer. Heelan, then, rolled right and hit Ferrer again for the two points and an Iona win.

1. DeLeo carries as Kuschman opens a hole in the Mount line.

2. Coach Rudy Augustine.

3.

3. FIRST ROW (LEFT TO RIGHT): Bill McHugh, Don Alleva, John D'Agostino, Tony Vozza, George DeLeo, Ernie Fiore, Mike Avalone, Don Trabant. SECOND ROW: Doug Licursi, Joe Treretola, Joe Cotter, Tom Ramunto, Steve Carlucci, Chris Mazzocco, Joe Scarano, Mike Carlucci. THIRD ROW: Vin Loia, Mike Misisco, Carlos Ferrer, Charley Moylan, Tom Borgia, Pat Coppolecchia, Chip Guarino, Chris Campbell. FOURTH ROW: Joe Marren, Jack Gazzola, John Kuschman, Phil Price, Bob Linen, Tom McKeown, George Marrone, Mark McDade. FIFTH ROW: Kenny Rehders, Tom McCormick, Ed Keyes, Coaches Vin Farrell, Rudy Augustine, Hank Margotta, Brian Heelan, Joe Furlong, Chris Daniele.

Balanced Offense: Key To Iona's Success

Iona's offense is best characterized by the word balance. George DeLeo and Ernie Fiore formed a fine running attack, with DeLeo gaining over a 1,000 yards. The offensive line led by Jack Gazzola, All League tackle Tom McKeown, and captain George Marrone opened the gaps for Iona's steady running attack. Iona's fine pair of receivers, captains Charley Moylan and Carlos Ferrer gave the Prep an effective air attack. Junior quarterback, Brian Heelan, proved himself as one of the premier quarterback's in the CHSFL.

1. Heelan looks over Mount defense.
2. DeLeo leads interference as Heelan options to Fiore.
3. All League, All County back George DeLeo goes for the score.

Defense Dominates Iona's Rivals

The defense led by All League linebackers Carmen Palladino and Tom Borgia proved to be one of the best in the CHSFL. The front line, consisting of seniors George Marrone, Joe Trereto-la, Tom McKeown and junior Tom McCormick made the defensive club a tough squad to run against. The ability to defend well against the pass is attributable to the fine linebacking staff of Carmen Palladino, Tom Borgia, Joe Marren and Mike Misisco.

The secondary, led by senior Don Trabert, kept the explosive passing attacks in check.

Although the defense experienced some difficulty in the beginning of the season, it seemed to find itself in Iona's big win over Holy Cross. From there it went on to hold two opponents scoreless and to virtually win the Stepinac game with a goal line stand.

1. Iona's defense gets set.
2. Palladino and Trabert cripple a Mount runner.

2.

Turkey Day Victory

1.

1. Fiore leads DeLeo for the score.
2. Heelan calls an audible at the line.
3. Irish defense swarm over Purple Wave runner.

Iona's string of wins over archrival New Rochelle was extended to five with a resounding 25-0 victory. The game was played in terrible weather conditions as it was both muddy and cold. The 25 points that Iona scored under these conditions truly indicates its capabilities.

The offense, led by junior quarterback Brian Heelan opened the scoring with a touchdown strike to Charley Moylan. Heelan, who received the McKenna Award as the best back, threw accurately all day to Moylan, Rehders and Ferrer. The Gaels second score was the result of a long drive culminated by a 3 yard spurt by George DeLeo.

The defense, which stifled the Purple Wave throughout the game, came up with two key fumble recoveries in the first half. The second half saw the defense stop New Rochelle's passing attack with interceptions by Joe Marren, Chip Guarino and Carmen Palladino.

The third Iona score came as a result of a New Rochelle turnover. Heelan hit Carlos Ferrer in the end zone. The Gaels capped off the scoring with fullback Ernie Fiore bringing it in from the two yard line.

4.

1. All County receiver Charlie Moylan goes for score in The Game.
2. Carlos Ferrer, Iona's other All County receiver, makes grab in a crowd.
3. Iona's Defense closes in to stop the Purple's ground game.
4. Game's M.V.P., Brian Heelan, throws under pressure.

J.V. Success Makes Future Promising

BOTTOM ROW, LEFT TO RIGHT: Mgr. Steve Columbia, Mgr. Jim Bause, Greg Milo, Pat Kiernan, Rick Lesch, Cosmo Santullo, Gene Doherty, Mike Alleva, Norbert Renz, Jim McWade, Tony Falcone, Mgr. Lenny Ingles. 2nd ROW: Coach John Fogler, Jim Caruso, Emmett Delany, Ben Marciano, Chris Rehders, John Grimes, Vernon Smith, Eric Rossell, Bill Ford, Quentin Durning, Coach Vic Magnotta. 3rd ROW: Angelo Palladino, Joe Mastrogeorgio, Jerry Rivera, Frank Sullivan, Joe Duffy, John Dwyer, Mark Siciliano, Joe Vaccaro, Steve Joyce, Armand Uomoleale. 4th ROW: Bob Keepler, Bob Heineman, Joe Lucente, Chris Berganini, Tim Galin, Joe Brescia, Kevin Behre, Danny O'Donnell.

1. Captain Gene Doherty gets outside against Hayes.
2. Eric Rossell cuts against pursuing linemen.
3. Mike Alleva calls signals at the line.
4. Coach Magnotta talks over the game with referee.
5. Iona's defense sets to stop Hayes attack.

Iona's J.V. Football came alive this year, much to the misfortune of their opponents. A well balanced team was molded by Coaches Magnotta and Fogler. Iona's schedule this year was expanded to nine games in order to include such teams as White Plains and New Rochelle, as well as, the games in the perennially tough C.H.S.F.L. The J.V. opened up its season with a convincing 12-0 win over New Rochelle. The team rolled to a 14-0 decision over Holy Trinity with a big 24-16 defeat of Cardinal Hayes following. These early wins established enough pride and confidence to carry them to one of Iona's most successful J.V. seasons.

This spirit and hard work joined with raw talent to produce our squad's brutal effectiveness. Mike Alleva Gene Doherty and Vernon Smith headed the offense while Ricky Lesch, Cosmo Santullo and Norbert Renz spearheaded the defense. These leaders forced a tight drive toward success and guaranteed Iona victory for the future.

Frosh — Division Champs

1.
1) Fearsome Frosh Defense size up Francis' Offense. 2.
2) Irish Offense plans attack.

Mr. Moore's Frosh Football team has again proved convincingly that Iona's future in football is secure. The Little Gaels astounded their opponents as they marched to a 4-0-2 season.

Quarterback Tony Gianelli handed off to backs Derek Dalton, Paul Petrillo and John Salambini as the team sandwiched its rivals between an inspired offense and a solid defense. Slashing runs, superb blocking and perfect passes jelled to form an unstoppable machine. The defense proved equally adept at both individual effort and team spirit.

Together they were an irresistible force. Such powers as Holy Trinity, Cardinal Hayes, Cardinal Spellman, and Stepinac fell before their onrushing tide.

Track Team's Balance Leads To Success

In the tradition of Iona, shot put has been strongest in the area of field events. This aspect of field events has been led by George Marrone, Chris Daniele and Carman Palladino is presently being rivaled by pole vaulters Des McGlade and Jim O'Connell. Pole vaulting has been one of Iona's weak points in past years but is now showing promise. High-jumping, led by Bill Scott, triple jumping with Jim Fogarty and hurdling by Rick Kropp, Bill Scott and Frank Vaccari have also shown marked improvement over last year.

On the boards, in the indoor running season, Iona has two of the best quarter milers in the county, Paul Shiels and Ed Dougherty. Tom Petrone, Fred Albertini and Paul Caruso make up the back bone of the short speed. Three of the fastest sophs are Gene Boesch, Cosmo Santullo and Steve Vasta; they finish the total speed picture. Distance, led by Mike Kiernan and Gerry Sexton along with underclassmen Jack Egan, Joe Garland, Mark McCabe, Sean McGillicudy, Sam Masini and Lew Munday, continues in the tradition of Iona.

Returning Harriers Spark Improved Team

Under the imaginative coaching of Mr. James Greer, the members of Iona's Varsity Cross Country team produced an outstanding record. One of the best performances of this good year was put in by Junior, Jack Egan. Egan endured the agony of two and a half miles to break the school record for the Cross Country run.

With leadership provided by Co-captains Jerry Sexton and Mike Kiernan, the team's record was admirable. They placed second in stiff competition in the Eastern States Championship and first in the New Rochelle Championship meet.

1. Mike Kiernan leads the pack against New Rochelle.
2. Jim Lawlor and Jerry Colligan dash to the finish.
3. Iona runners Jerry Sexton and Bill Tracy race towards victory over New Rochelle.

Harriers Enjoy Triumphant Spring Season

Spring is the season that tracksters perform their best. This was the reason for so many outstanding performances in all aspects of track and field. The team of '72 has approached the point of equal importance and a balance between track and field. In the past, Prep teams have banked upon the strength and endurance of their distance runners for most of their outstanding records and performances. But the spring team of this year has a remarkably fast speed team along with a strong field team. These dynamic co-partners insured Iona's best all-around performance in its recent history.

Brother Harlow concentrated his strength and time in shot-putters, hurdlers, high-jumpers and pole vaulters. As a result, outstanding performances were given by Don Trabert, Chris Daniele, George Marrone, Carmen Palladino, Rick Kropp, Jim O'Connell, Jim Fogarty and Sophomore Desi McGlade. Mr. Greer gave his full support and effort to the distance and speed aspects of the sport. Because of this devotion, distance men such as Paul Shields, Ed Dougherty, Jack Egan and Mark Nurzyk, gave their all. These upperclassmen were backed by future promising sophomores Mark McCabe, Kevin Degan, Jim Lawlor, Gene Boesch, Steve Vasta and Cosmo Santullo.

1. Desi McGlade clears height in near perfect form.
2. Speedmen receive days workout.
3. Team loosens up under a warm sun.

Frosh: Performance And Consistency

3.

This year's Freshman Cross Country Team completed a successful season with a 3 and 1 record in dual meets. The team won the Elks Meet against New Rochelle and also placed 10th in competition in another major meet. Leading the team to these victories were Mike Gorman, Dan O'Connell, Tom Crane, and Frank Conroy. The outstanding season reflects the coaching job handled by Br. Lynch and Mr. DeBellis and the driving will of a young new team.

1. Frosh runners receive placement at end of country run.
2. Coach DeBellis briefs team during Iona workout sessions.
3. Cross Country Team limbers up in early days of season.

The Iona Swim Team proved its dominance of the Westchester schools. This year led by co-captains Tom McEvoy and Tom Clifford the Fish Market overpowered such rivals as Mamaroneck, Hackley, New Rochelle, and most importantly St. Mary's. This marked the first victory over them in eight years and signified Coach Butler's hundredth victory while at the school. This event did not slow down the Iona powerhouse; they continued to plunge their opponents deep into the water. Such standouts as Tom MacNiven have brought other credits to the team with fine performances at the Catholic School Nationals at Villanova. Other swimmers which showed fine promise to future teams are Brian Mahoney and freshmen Chris Powers, Tom Byrnes and Brian Jackson.

1. Rory O'Moore smoothly finishes a difficult 100 yrs. in the butterfly competition.
2. Bob Tarpey approaches his next dive confidently.
3. Tom MacNiven delivers with a gracefull butterfly stroke, far outdistancing his nearest competitor in the 200 Individual Medley event.

1.

2.

3.

4. Tarpey executes a forward dive in the layout position and gains the few points that contribute to the totals that keep the opposition on their toes.
5. Gary Mino demonstrates his abilities in this forward dive as he assumes the tight tuck position.

6. A definite eye-catcher at most of the meets was this backward summersalt in the pike position, just another item in the vast stock that Gary Mino carries to the meets.
7. Coach Leo Butler watches his swimmers and serves as the driving force that has lead them to their success and spirit.

- 3) Bob Petrocelli at the foul line.
- 4) Mike Scanlon shoots in heavy traffic.
- 5) Ernie Fiore loosens up before game.
- 6) Steve Garagiola draws a foul.

3.

5.

This year's squad, under first year coach Mr. Timothy Cohane, created a new spirit around the Prep campus. Co-captains Jim Scully and Charlie Logan provided the Irish quintet with the leadership necessary for a winning season. Juniors Walt Longo, Bob Iorio, Brian Heelan, Larry Holten, John Tolomer, Steve Garagiola, Mike Scanlon, and Frank Lapetina contributed greatly to the teams' success, and can be expected to do the same next season. Seniors Bob Petrocelli, Kevin Taylor, Ernie Fiore, and Steve Manning exhibited their experience and ability on the court.

The season was filled with many exciting moments and outstanding individual performances. These include Walt Longo's 27 points in a big win over St. Helena's, Bob Iorio's free-throw with one second remaining, which enabled Cohane's 5 to upset Stepinac 60-59, and Jim Scully's buzzer shot which gave the Prep a two point victory. The 1971-1972 Varsity Basketball team will be remembered for its great defense and unlimited effort. These virtues can be attributed to the fine leadership of the squad's co-captains and the excellent coaching of Mr. Cohane.

- 1) Walt Longo hits from the top of the key.
2) Brian Heelan attempts a free throw.

J.V. 5 Displays Ingredients Of Future Victory

Coach Tim Cohane's J.V. Basketball Team went through a disappointing season, but showed great prospects for future varsity teams. The "J.V.5" was plagued by continuous injury and bad luck throughout the season and still managed to post a winning percentage. Co-captains Rob Hamilton and Greg Corson provided consistent high scoring through the season. Steve Murphy got off to a slow start due to back and ankle injuries, but fell into groove along mid-season. The backcourt was run by all out hustlers Ed Curtin and Rick Lesch. The potential talent and incentive is there and this year's J.V. could help bring the C.H.S.A.A. City-Championship to the Prep in the coming season.

- 1) Greg Corsen shows his accuracy.
- 2) Nick Alberti at the foul line.
- 3) Greg Corsen skies for a jump ball.
- 4) Ricky Lesch moves ball upcourt with Rob Hamilton.
- 5) Rob Hamilton takes a jumper as Irish rally forms.

Frosh Offer Hope For Future Championship

1.

Since the success of future varsity teams is determined at the Frosh level, the good showing of Iona's Frosh Basketball team has brightened the hopes of optimist and pessimist alike.

With Br. McGoldrick at the helm, the team steamrolled to a victorious season. Though the competition was fierce, the Iona five performed admirably against such adversaries as Cardinal Hayes, St. Helena and Albert Leonard.

Coach McGoldrick's men featured a solid offense and a competent defense. The team's starters varied from game to game but all players exhibited a determination that rivaled their ample talent. First year men: Pete Lobue, Chris Mara, Derek Dalton and George Mallas were outstanding in this promising field.

This season's Varsity A Bowling Team was one of the best in Iona's history, finishing just two points out of first place. Under the command of Co-captains John Scola and Lenny Piedmont the team placed well until the final game of the season before bowing to a strong Port Chester team. Seniors Frank La Manna and Angelo Sicuranza along with Juniors Bill DiSesa and Nick Mouracade backed up Scola and Piedmont with fine efforts.

The B and B + teams did not fair as well in competition, however, Steve Webster and Ray Alfini bowled well for the B team, and Dom Digeon held up the B + team with his consistent performances. Next years' varsity is expected to be even better with many members of the team returning with the necessary experience.

1. Iona's A Bowling Team: Bill DiSesa, Lenny Piedmont, Francis LaManna, Nick Mouracade, Angelo Sicuranza, missing — John Scola.
2. Iona's B Bowling Team: Bob LaGravinese, Ray Alfini, Dom Digeon, Steve Webster, Mike Procino, Tony Farello, Bill Russell. Missing — Pat Gialo, Ralph Gangitano, Ron LoPinto, John Valenti, Charlie Bartolomeo, Dave Krug.
3. Pat Gialo records another strike.

3.

The Iona Tennis program displayed remarkable talent in its J.V. and Freshman ranks this fall with victories in the September Fordham Tournament. The Varsity was weakened by the lack of depth, but faired admirably under the circumstances.

The Varsity Team was led by Captain Bob Petrocelli and junior Bill DiSesa. Bob Manavola and Peter Koch also made significant contributions. The J.V. was strengthened by Emmett Ryan and Greg Martino, both finalists in the Fordham Tournament. The top freshman was Woody Worthington, who is expected to bring future Iona teams a winning reputation. Coach Randolph Jenne expressed pride in the team's fine showing in the spring's duel meets and repeated success was predicted for the coming years.

Blades Dominate Again

The Iona Blades with a fine 8-1 record fought hard throughout the season to prove it is the leagues best team. Led by Captain Bob Gillen along with Bob DiRenzo and Rich Wolfe, the first line led the League in scoring with 65 points while the defense was nothing to hide. Tom Nolin, Jim Rooney and Mike Aliberto combined to form the second best in the League. Credit cannot be given to these alone. Sophomore Dave Santini and Seniors Bob McMullan and Ed Loughman all contributed to this fine effort.

- 1) Iona's defensemen get set to stop onrushing Plainsmen.
- 2) Steve Burke raises stick to complement goal.
- 3) Bob DiRenzo and Bob Gillen exchange pleasantries with Stepinac defender.

Baseball Squad Produces Fine Record

2.

Iona's 1972 Varsity Baseball Team is looking forward to what looks to be it's finest season in years. These hopes are prompted by the large number of returning seniors. The hopes are diminished once again, however, by the lack of facilities for the team to practice on.

Iona's mound corps is almost complete as journeymen Mike Kmetz, Steve Manning, and Ted Cousin are returning. The defense, anchored by Bill Byrne and George DeLeo in the infield, and Jack Gazzola, Joe Marren, and Joe Trerotola in the outfield combine to give Iona a sturdy defense. Strong seasons are also expected from juniors Chip Guarino and John Sauers. Coach Margotta has been working hard since February and expects a successful year.

1. Iona's mound corps Steve Manning, Mike Kmetz, and Ted Cousin.
2. Senior slugger Joe Marren awaits pitch.
3. Shortstop John Sauers, catcher Chip Guarino, and third baseman Bill Byrne head the defense.

Golfers Headed For Fourth Perfect Year

2. Iona's four ambassadors to the world of Golf proved themselves well suited for the links. Our foursome, Brendan Rooney, Jack Pollack, Mike Leslie and Jack O'Connell displayed a cool, composed form that bested even the most accomplished oponents. Inspired by Br. Daignault's coaching, they produced a record which is a credit to the school.

1. Brendan Rooney, Jack O'Connell and Mike Leslie.
2. Jack Pollack prepares to hit.
3. Brendan Roooney about to lash into the ball.

The Iona Prep Captain's Corps, a group of young men who excell in the many areas of Physical Education, aid in the growth of Iona.

Their common bond is leadership. The Corps sponsors the Prep Obstacle Run, Power Lifting Contest, and Table Tennis Tournament. The Corps, as in past years, was instrumental in the success of the annual Iona Prep Open House.

1. Weight training is another activity where the Captains display their leadership.
2. Captains are taught the fundamentals of various sports which they use to instruct their classmates.

We the editors and staff of Saga '72 have attempted to display for you the Iona that we experienced this year. Its essence naturally being the people who involve themselves in its activities and make it work. To those people we dedicate our book.

We would like to thank: Brother Harold M. Delaney for his spirit and enthusiasm in our work, Brother James K. Devlin for his guidance and direction, Davis Studios for their pictorial services and Mr. Ev Arnold for his professional advice and concern. With their help this book was created.
